“Idaho Cattle” Photo Contest

Can you capture the beauty of Idaho when you see it? Can you take a picture of the scenes that shows Idaho life at its best? Can you catch a moment in the life of an Idaho cattleman or woman on film? If so, you can be among the first ICA Photo Contest winners. You don't have to be a professional photographer, just someone with a good eye and a camera.

The 6 categories for the “Idaho Cattle” Contest are:

Idaho Scenic Ranges or Pastures: images of landscapes, nature, sunrise/sunset or anything showcasing Idaho's outdoor beauty. Note: if you enter a photo into this category, please include the place name in the title or description of your photo.

Idaho Cattle and Horses: images of ranch animals, ie. cattle, horses, working dogs, even an old barn cat. Please include the breed of animal in the title or description of your photo.

Idaho Cattlemen Characters: images of cattlemen and women in all aspects of life—family, children, babies, couples and relationships, sports, and the like. Important: be sure you have signed releases for any recognizable people in these photos.

Idaho Cattlemen Experiences: action shots. Branding, roping, riding, feeding, all things cattlemen do, we need signed releases for people in these pictures too.

Idaho Cattlemen Humor: On the ranch there are those moments that make us smile or even laugh. You might capture kids in some silly game, or a calf in some comical position or maybe the dog doing tricks.

Historic Idaho Cattlemen: images of the Idaho cattle industry depicting the early days. We want to start gathering photos for our centennial year, 2015.

This photo contest is all about capturing the art that is the Idaho cattle industry and its people. In addition to prizes being awarded, photos will have the opportunity to appear on future Line Rider magazine covers.
